Hack4Values

Pledge to NGOs
Security Responsibility

We are committed to creating a safer digital world for all NGOs and their.

We promote the principles of transparency, trust and collaboration - we believe that by sharing our experiences and knowledge, we can build a safer and more secure ecosystem.

We work with ethical hackers around the world to fight cyber threats that target NGOs.

It's not something we can do in isolation. We encourage every organization, regardless of size, to take this step with us and commit to these four guiding principles.

We are committed to

1. Encourage transparency across NGOs to build trust and share knowledge.

2. Foster a culture of collaboration across NGOs that empowers everyone to reduce cyber risk.

3. Promote innovation by encouraging teams to imagine and build secure digital services.

4. We and our suppliers hold ourselves accountable for adhering to best practices to make security a remarkable point of differentiation.

Fabien LEMARCHAND
Hack4Values President